DISPOSITION WRITING Please select one of the following statements and discuss your views:

1. One of the founding principles of the Kentucky Education Reform Act is the statement that “All children can learn and most at high levels.” With many states having a significant achievement gap between diverse students, it is becoming more important to hold high expectations for all students. In no more than three-hundred (300) words, discuss the above statement that suggests that all students can learn.
2. There has been a debate for the past number of decades about teaching as a profession. Some contend that it is because of required certificate renewal, and, in some cases, certificate revocation. In no more than three-hundred (300) words, discuss your views as to the professional status of teaching.
3. Nationally, education is one of the largest industries in the United States. Research suggests that one out of every four Americans is somehow engaged in education or a business that is dependent upon education. Discuss your views concerning the importance of education to American society in 2008 in no more than three-hundred (300) words.
